Green County Board update

County board ponders ATV/UTV trails measure, land use update

Have you seen the new Green County website? It is up and running and is extremely user-friendly. If you type in the old web address it will direct you to the new one, which is www.wi-greencounty.com. There are more features on the new website which makes navigating the site and finding what you are looking for much easier. Please check it out.

cover any unexpected budget overages and return any unused funds to the General Fund. More money was returned to the General Fund than transferred out. A resolution for non-lapsing funds was passed as well.

A draft ordinance about the creation of all-terrain and utility-terrain vehicle trail crossings and routes on county trunk highways in Green County was distributed to the board. This ordinance is expected to be discussed by the board at the June meeting.

The draft ordinance can be found on the Green County website or through this link: www.greencountywi.org/DocumentCenter/View/730/PROPOSED-ATV-Trails-Ordinance. The easiest way to find it on the website is to search for "proposed atv ordinance" in the search bar at the top of the homepage.

The ordinance addresses the creation and use of ATV/UTV routes on county trunk highways in Green County. You are welcome to review the proposed ordinance and contact your county board supervisor and/or the Highway Committee with any thoughts or concerns you may have.

Ag land update

The Land Use and Zoning Department is currently working to update approved ag land uses. It has been a few decades since it has been updated, and land uses have changed, including agritourism. The zoning department and oversight committee are taking input from residents while updating the code.

The Land Use and Zoning Committee usually meets the second Monday of the month. You can find meeting and agenda information on the Green County website, as well as contact information for the department and oversight committee.

COVID-19 vaccines

Have you received your COVID-19 vaccine yet? They are available throughout the county at the health department, clinics and pharmacies. If you have not received it yet, please consider doing so soon. The sooner we reach herd immunity, the sooner things can safely begin to resemble our old normal, and the sooner we can stop the spread of the virus and its variants. In the meantime, thank you for masking, washing hands and keeping 6 feet apart.

Erica Roth represents Green County Board District 24 (town of Albany and a corner of the town of Brooklyn) and can be reached at 608-371-9074 or eroth@greencountywi.org.

Obituaries

JOANN COLLINS ANDERSON

Joann Collins Anderson, age 88, passed away at Monroe Hospital on May 8, 2021, from congestive heart failure. She was born March 13, 1933, in Madison Wisconsin, to Clarence and Isabel Haakenson. She eloped and married her friend and love, Robert (Bob) "Sabu" Collins on Aug. 15, 1959.

Joann loved to live with people and loved life. She enjoyed golfing, bowling and dancing and loved Patsy Cline and Conway Twitty. She also shared her love of baking with her family, teaching those of us who cared to learn how to make the best piecrust ever. But most of all she loved to go to all of her children's and grandchildren's baseball games, dance recitals and school holiday plays. She was an avid Badgers and Packers fan.

For many years Joann worked at the Green County Bank, where she met her lifelong friend, Carol Badertscher. In 1971 she was hired at Janesville Products, later known as Woodbridge, as the human resource supervisor. Joann retired from Woodbridge in 1999.

After high school she worked as a secretary in a variety of settings. She worked at the state Capitol, a lawyer's office and Cape Canaveral in Coco Beach, Florida, before returning to Wisconsin and meeting Sabu, whom she married and moved to Brodhead with to make a new life. She wasn't in Brodhead long before she met many new friends who became lifelong friends. Joann and Sabu enjoyed playing bridge every Saturday night for more than 20 years with their great friends Werner and Hazel Weissenfluh. One week Bob and Joann would drive to Monroe with kids in tow, the next week Werner and Hazel would drive to Brodhead. The foursome enjoyed many vacations and weekend getaways over many years and made a lifetime of memories. The two families grew up together and became one.

Joann is survived by her children, three sons, Mike Curl, Greg Curl and Don Collins (Alejandra); three daughter, Terry (Eddie) Burk, Cathy (Dean) Lapp and LouAnn (Jim) Harmel; 17 grandchildren; and 24 great-grandchildren. All of these she loved and touched deeply.

She was preceded in death by Robert Collins, her husband of 38 years, and Darrell Anderson, her husband of nine years; her parents; a brother, Chandler; a sister, Carol; and two siblings at age 2.

A memorial visitation at DL Newcomer Funeral Home and a gathering at Deb's Bar, both in Brodhead, were held May 13.

DL Newcomer Funeral Home is serving the family. Go online to dlnewcomerfuneralhome.com or 608-897-2484 for more information.

Brodhead Independent-Register

State officials look to place more than 10,000 gypsy moth traps like these from now until mid-June. The data collected from the traps throughout the summer will help officials plan for next year's gypsy moth spraying treatments. Gypsy moth caterpillars can defoliate trees and shrubs and leave trees vulnerable to diseases and other pests.

State asks for cooperation in trapping gypsy moths

Personnel from the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection will be setting more than 10,000 traps for gypsy moths in 47 counties from mid-May through early June.

"DATCP requests that property owners allow trappers access to place traps, and that they not disturb the traps once in place," according to a news release.

The effort includes Green and Rock counties.

"The data we gather from these traps provides an estimate of the state's gypsy moth population and is used to plan for next year's spray treatment," Michael Falk, DATCP's gypsy moth trapping coordinator, said in the release. "It also helps DATCP's nursery and Christmas tree inspectors in the fall to check trees for gypsy moth egg masses."

The traps are small green boxes tied to tree branches. The trap contains the scent of a female gypsy moth that is undetectable to other insects and is used to attract and catch male gypsy moths.

Trappers will monitor traps until the male moths stop flying in August, at which time the traps are removed. Trappers wear fluorescent vests and carry identification cards. Each trap is labeled with a phone number that property owners can call if they have questions or decide they want it removed.

For more information, go online to datcp.wi.gov/Pages/Programs_Services/GMSurvey.aspx, call DATCP's gypsy moth program at 800-642-MOTH, or email gypsymoth@wisconsin.gov.

Raffle benefits Family Promise

Family Promise of Green County is celebrating its 10th anniversary this year.

The local chapter was founded in November 2011. Since then, the organization has served more than 300 families and more than 700 people, half of whom are children.

The organization's three-tiered model seeks to prevent families from becoming homeless, provide shelter to those who need it and empower families to achieve independence through stabilization.

Each year, Family Promise of Green County hosts its signature 10 Grand in Your Hand fundraiser. While last year's fundraising event and raffle had to be canceled, it returns this year via a new virtual format.

At 6 p.m. Thursday, June 17, the event will be live-streamed on Facebook Live with an accompanying silent online auction during the week leading up to the event.

A limited number of 250 tickets are sold at $100 each. Tickets are randomly drawn with every 10th ticket receiving a prize valued at at least $100. The last ticket to be drawn could receive the $10,000 prize.

To purchase tickets, contact Family Promise of Green County at 608-328-2600 or director@familypromisegreencounty.org.

Wednesdays feature art, food and fun at historical society

Artrageous Wednesdays featuring art, food, beverages and music, will return May 26 through Sept. 29 outside the Tallman Carriage House on the Rock County Historical Society campus, 450 N. Jackson St., Janesville.

The free-admission events will run from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m.

"The community responded so positively to last summer's Artrageous Wednesdays, and are asking about them already for this year," RCHS Executive Director Tim Maahs said in a news release. "The mix of local artists, live music, food trucks and drinks — all outdoors on the beautiful RCHS grounds — is a terrific way for people to get together casually and enjoy a lovely evening."

Each Artrageous Wednesday week features one or more different artists, who will set up in the Tallman Carriage House with the large, garage-like doors open. The public is invited to view the art — while wearing masks — and enjoy the scenic campus of RCHS while remaining socially distant.

Live music, a cash bar and a food truck also will be featured each week. Picnic tables are available, or people may bring their own blankets or chairs. Small group tent rental and bottle service is also available by request.

The event kicks off May 26 with a variety of artwork by members of the Janesville Art League. Artwork will be exhibited and for sale on both levels of the Tallman Carriage House.

Live music by Sarabande will begin at 5 p.m.

Each week's artist, food truck and musical performers will be announced weekly on the Rock County Historical Society Facebook page. In case of rain, the event will be moved to Thursday of the same week when possible. Follow the RCHS Facebook page for regular updates.
